INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES

If you have an endowment to manage, a family legacy, or a substantial inheritance, I want to point you to Michael Karris.

His background is right out of the playbook: Undergraduate engineering at UCLA, MBA at the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University, early years focused on bonds at BNP Paribas and JP Morgan Asset Management, followed by a stint as a Director of Investments at Columbia University's endowment. Resumes don't get much better.

But, beyond the resume, Michael is a proven performer, still young and hungry enough to deliver the kind of attention to your account that it deserves.

Give Michael a call, or send him an email today. Tell him I sent you. Your heirs, or your charity, will laud your smarts for years to come.
